Non-Fiction Formative Assignment 2 - Reflection

The purpose of this reflection is to continue using our reflective skills in writing about our work, and to set some writing goals (Process Standards 1 and 2). Read through your flash fiction and the first draft of your story. In a well-developed paragraph answer the following questions.

- How did you decide to edit your piece and why?
- What did you decide not to edit and why?
- What were you trying to accomplish with these changes?
- How did you approach the existing standards we've been working on?
- What do you still struggle with this assignment
- What would you like me to help you with in the future?
- There is one more rewrite for this assignment. What do you plan to include change in the next draft?

Include this reflection with your Introduction and Dialogue submission.

Be sure to that your paragraph is well worded, and carefully edited. Use the rubric below to help you. This reflection is a summative assignment. For the last draft, you will be required to write a summative reflection.

	4	3	2	1
Editing & Revising reflection coversheet	- Product reflects evidence of editing according to all comments made on previous drafts - Coversheet includes reflection paragraph - Reflection answers all aspects of the prompt - Reflection Paragraph is highly developed and organized with few errors, and an attention to style and sentence structure	- Product reflects evidence of editing according to most comments made on previous drafts - Coversheet includes reflection paragraph - Reflection paragraph answers all aspects of the prompt - Reflection paragraph is organized with few errors	- Product reflects evidence of editing but not according to comments made - Coversheet is included with reflection paragraph - Reflection answers the prompt but may be missing some aspects of the prompt - Organization of reflection paragraph is inconsistent, and contains errors but does not detract from readability	- Product does not reflect evidence of editing according to previous drafts - Coversheet is not included or does not contain a reflection paragraph - If reflection paragraph exists, it does not answer prompt - If reflection paragraph exists, it lacks organization or contains errors that detract for readability