

Community Research Journal

Due Date TBD

In order for you to use your community involvement experience as a source, you will need to document what you are doing, who you worked with, what you learned from it, and how it supports your argument's claim. Use the following pages as a journal to record your experience.

Here is what I did and who I worked with for my community involvement:

Here is what I learned from my community involvement:

Here is how my experience will support my argument's claim: